

The Capitol Building

It used to be the meeting place for people in the government like senators. In 1850 it was added onto. It has been worked on in different ways for many years.

It has its own subway system. It was opened in 1909 and takes government officials from offices to the Capitol. It was burned in 1812 by English troops.